

Entry-Level Business Systems Analyst

Our mission:

Strategio is on a mission to improve diversity, equity, and inclusion for underserved and underrepresented groups in the enterprise technology workforce. As part of this mission, we are opening a number of scholarships, training, and job opportunities for Indigenous Peoples in Canada. Indigenous Peoples is a collective name for the original peoples of North America and their descendants. This includes First Nations, Métis, and Inuit.

The Opportunity:

The role you are applying for is entry-level. To support your growth, you'll be invited into our 8-week Enterprise Simulator training program, led by industry experts, where you'll upskill on specific tools and technologies relevant to this Business Systems Analyst role. During training, you'll be remunerated with a Strategio Scholarship to cover your expenses and remove any financial barriers to entry. Upon successful completion of training, you'll secure your first technology consulting role as a Strategio Technologist.

About You:

You are an excellent communicator, highly organized, detail-oriented, and capable of managing tasks efficiently. You work well in collaborative environments, eager to learn from others and contribute to the success of the team. With a proactive mindset, you are excited to develop your skills in translating business requirements to development teams efficiently, ensuring clarity and structure in every communication to support seamless project execution.

As a Strategio Technologist:

Once you have successfully completed our Enterprise Simulator training program, you'll continue as an ambassador to our mission as an Entry-level Business Systems Analyst to:

- Gather and document business requirements to ensure clear and actionable specifications for development and testing teams.
- Serve as a point of contact between business stakeholders and technical teams to facilitate effective communication.
- Track and organize project tasks and deliverables, while maintaining detailed documentation of processes, requirements, and updates.
- Create and update process documentation to ensure consistency and clarity throughout the project lifecycle.
- Assist in coordinating with teams to ensure alignment and support during development and deployment phases.

Your job search ends here. If you're ready to be part of the change, join Strategio to transform your potential into success by applying:
