strategio

Entry-level Software Developer

Our mission:
Strategio is on a mission to improve diversity, equity, and inclusion for underserved and underrepresented groups in the enterprise technology workforce. As part of this mission, we are opening a number of scholarships, training, and job opportunities for Indigenous Peoples in Canada. Indigenous Peoples is a collective name for the original peoples of North America and their descendants. This includes First Nations, Métis, and Inuit.

The Opportunity:

The role you are applying for is entry-level. To support your growth, you'll be invited into our 8-week Enterprise Simulator training program, led by industry experts, where you'll upskill on specific tools and technologies relevant to this Software Developer role. During training, you'll be remunerated with a Strategio Scholarship to cover your expenses and remove any financial barriers to entry. Upon successful completion of training, you'll secure your first technology consulting role as a Strategio Technologist.

About You:

You are a proactive and autonomous individual, driven by a passion for staying continuously updated with the latest technologies. You thrive in collaborative environments, always eager to learn from others and contribute to the team's success. With a strong problem-solving mindset, you approach challenges with logic, resourcefulness, and troubleshooting skills.

As a Strategio Technologist:

Throughout our training, you'll gain knowledge in the following key areas:

- Collaborate with cross-functional teams to gather requirements, design solutions, and implement new features aligned with project goals.
- Develop, test, and maintain high-quality software, ensuring scalability, performance, and adherence to standards.
- Troubleshoot, debug, and optimize software performance while working in an Agile environment to deliver reliable solutions.

Your job search ends here. If you're ready to be part of the change, join Strategio to transform your potential into success by applying:
